NEWSROOM NOTES — What about those million-odd unemployed youngsters who have already quit school?

They are no longer being shrugged off. In cities from coast to coast they are being offered a second chance. Millions of dollars are being spent to convert them from useless minuses into social pluses. Dozens of cities have adopted work-study programs. Detroit, Mich., for example, sponsors a split-shift Job Upgrading Program for 16-to-20-year-olds. Mornings, they attend informal classes with special teachers. Afternoons, they work in community-subsidized jobs. With valuable work experience under their belts, they can be helped to find permanent, full-time jobs.

In Chicago, an experiment called the Double EE program is under way. The E's stand for Education and Employment. Spurred by Superintendent of Schools Benjamin C. Willis, Carson Pirie Scott & Company, a large department store, agreed to hire "unemployable" dropouts provided they went back to school part time. Selection was made by school guidance people. Two private classrooms were set up near the store and staffed with four full-time teachers. A $50,000 grant from the Ford Foundation helped the project along.

Fifty-nine youngsters who had quit school were invited to join the program. Two days a week, the students attended classes where they were taught retailing—as well as civics, business English, mathematics, and typing. Subjects were fully accredited and could be applied toward high school diplomas. Three days a week, they worked in the store as sales clerks, clerical workers, or at other jobs. Each was paid $1 an hour to start. Each was befriended and guided by one of the store's junior executives. Of the original 59 who began work, 30 became full-time employees at Carson Pirie Scott while others are employed elsewhere, and some have returned to full-time school attendance.

Things are stirring on the state and federal levels, too. In the past week a joint state-federal Neighborhood Youth Corp. project was officially approved at Dixon State School.

This calls for enlisting up to 200 youths between the ages of 16 and 22, in the Lee-Ogle-White-side counties area who are school dropouts, and/or who are either unemployed or underemployed to train them to hold useful and productive jobs.

Hop Aboard Fighter Jet With Kay Lund

Kay Lund, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. V. Lund, 1412 Eustace Dr., recently became the first woman to fly one of the USAF's newest and fastest jet fighter-bombers, the F-105 Thunderchief and is probably one of the few women in the world to have flown faster than 1,000 miles per hour.

First Korean Troops Land in Viet Nam

The first contingent of South Korean troops who will help South Viet Nam in its war against the Viet Cong land at Saigon. Between 700 and 1,000 Korean soldiers in battle gear disembarked from landing ships. Thus Korea became first country other than the United States to commit a substantial number of fighting men in the conflict against the Viet Cong.

Jets Hammer Viet Cong Again

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. B57 jet bombers continued hammering suspected Viet Cong strongpoints 40 miles southeast of Saigon today.

Air Force spokesmen said the twin-jet planes flew 32 sorties in the morning and 15 in the afternoon over jungled Phuoc Tuy Province. Each bomber from Bien Hoa Airbase carried 13,500-pound bombs on each sortie.

There was no immediate indication what success the raids had.

War Will Spread: Kosygin

MOSCOW (AP) — Premier Alexei N. Kosygin said tonight the war in Viet Nam will spread beyond its present boundaries unless the United States halts its "aggressive actions." He repeated a Soviet demand that U.S. troops be withdrawn to prepare the way for a settlement.

Kosygin also demanded that U.S. troops be withdrawn from South Korea.

On Moscow
The Soviet premier reported in a Moscow television appearance on his recent visit to North Viet Nam, Red China and North Korea. His address hinted there is still considerable friction between the Russians and the Red Chinese.

Kosygin said the "most important result" of the talks had been the resolve of the U.S.S.R., North Viet Nam and North Korea.

Quotable

A nation is a thing that lives and acts like a man, and men are the particles of which it is composed.

—J. G. Holland

in heavy fighting in Binh Dinh Province during the past four days, the government casualty toll had risen to at least 160 — 43 killed, 51 wounded and 66 missing.

The heaviest engagements were due west of the mountain town of An Khe, along the main mountain road leading to Pleiku.

American casualties in the Binh Dinh fighting so far were recorded as one killed and 10 wounded. Six of the wounded were helicopter crewmen.

Temporary Lull

Fighting throughout the nation appeared in a temporary lull today, and no major engagements were reported anywhere. Viet Cong incidents during the past 24 hours were reported fewer than at any time in the past week.

Air force and naval units were alerted after another large Communist vessel was rumored approaching the coast from the South China Sea. Search units reportedly found nothing.

Last week the fighting and bombing of an ocean-going Communist boat resulted in capture of the largest cache of Viet Cong weapons yet seized.

Members of South Viet Nam's Armed Forces Council met in Saigon Thursday night, reportedly to pick a successor for their ousted chairman, Lt. Gen. Nguyen Khanh.

No Word

There was no word on whether any decision was reached.

North Viet Nam today called the U.S. jet missions against Viet Cong guerrillas "massacres" and charged they violate the 1954 Geneva armistice for Indochina. Radio Hanoi said the United States was committing "extremely serious acts" by carrying out the missions.

Nixon Urges 'Relentless' War on Reds

CHICAGO (AP) — The United States should make "continuous and relentless" air and sea attacks on Communist troops in North Viet Nam to halt the flow of arms to Communist guerrillas in the South, says Richard M. Nixon.

The former vice president also urged that President Johnson forego any Viet Nam negotiations presently and said he was flatly opposed to turning over negotiations to the United Nations.

Speaking at a $100-a-plate Illinois Republican fund-raising dinner Thursday night, Nixon said: "We must win the war in Viet Nam. This does not mean to spread it, but to contain it with air and sea power, and to destroy the flow of men and materials into South Viet Nam."

In opposing turning over the Viet Nam situation to the U.N., Nixon said:

"To turn an issue so vital to the security of the United States over to the U.N. at this time would be to get a watered-down solution for the weak and the timid."

Calling for a presidential decision within a matter of days, Nixon suggested that Johnson call a summit conference of free Asian nations.

"United States security is not all that is at stake in Viet Nam. Japan, the Philippines, South Korea, Taiwan, Thailand and other free Asian nations must be mobilized," he said.

If South Viet Nam is lost either by negotiation or American withdrawal, said Nixon, all Southeast Asia would eventually fall under Communist domination.

NEW YORK (AP) — Police arrested a young Black Muslim enforcer early today and charged him with the murder of Malcolm X, ousted minister of the black supremacy sect.

Limping as he strode into police headquarters with a bandage on his right ankle, Norman 3X Butler, 26, of the Bronx, was the second man charged in the case.

Ankle Swollen

Butler's ankle was swollen and bandaged when he was taken into custody and police said he refused to explain the injury, or even talk at all.

The assassination of Malcolm X at a meeting of the rebel Black Muslim's followers triggered a melee of slugging and shooting. The first man arrested was wounded, allegedly by a bullet fired by a bodyguard.

Police described Butler as a Muslim muscleman, used to keep members in line and enforce discipline. He had been free on bail in the shooting last month of a former Muslim who was trying to set up his own mosque.

Malcolm, 39, was felled by 13 shots from three guns as he started to address a rally of 400 persons in a ballroom in the Washington Heights section of Manhattan.

Charged

Talmadge Hayer, 22, a Negro from Paterson, N.J., who was captured outside the ballroom after he had been shot in the leg by one of Malcolm's bodyguards, also has been charged with homicide. Police alleged he used a shotgun, one of three weapons employed in the deadly attack.

Police said Hayer has been uncooperative and has refused

Leader

Elijah Muhammad, above, 67, leader of "The Nation of Islam," popularly known as the Black Muslims, plans to address his followers this weekend at annual convention in Chicago's Coliseum despite threats against his life.

Weather

Fair and not quite so cold tonight with low 12-18. Saturday mostly sunny and warmer with highs 35-45.

CHICAGO GUARD HEAVY

Police Nab Second Malcolm Suspect

to disclose whether he is a Black Muslim.

Butler's identification as a Black Muslim was the first official link of the Chicago-based sect with the slaying.

Asst. Chief Inspector Joseph L. Coyle said Butler was arrested at his residence, did not resist, "but he seemed surprised."

Five Men

Police believe five men were involved in the assassination. Their charge against Butler was that he acted in concert with Hayer.

Two other Negroes were questioned at the police station in Washington Heights during the night.

Butler and two other Black Muslims were charged with felonious assault last Jan. 7 in the shooting of Benjamin Brown, 31, a Negro corrections officer. Police said Brown had broken from the Black Muslims and was setting up a mosque of his own in the Bronx.

Butler had been free on $10,000 bail in the shooting of Brown, who was wounded in the chest outside a Bronx store.

Elijah Muhammad, 67, head of the Black Muslims who opens their annual convention in Chicago today, said last Monday his organization had nothing to do with Malcolm's slaying.

Guards

But as the Chicago convention convened, a heavy police guard was on duty to prevent a rumored threat of reprisal from Malcolm's followers.

In New York, a demand by a militant Negro group that merchants close their stores along Harlem's main street for 1½ days as a tribute to Malcolm was rejected Thursday night by the Uptown Chamber of Commerce.

Funeral services for Malcolm, who headed the organization for Afro-American Unity and Muslim Mosque, Inc., are to be held Saturday. Some 14,000 persons have passed by his bier in less than three days.

In Washington, Carl Rowan, director of the United States Information Agency, who is a Negro, said some African newspapers were falsely portraying Malcolm X as a martyred integrationist hero. Rowan said Malcolm X was "an ex-convict, ex-dope peddler, who became a racial fanatic."

Rowan expressed amazement at some of the press accounts in Asia and Africa of the killing of

Murder Charged

Brechon Died From Gunshot

A coroner's jury has ruled that Gus Brechon, 59, died Wednesday night of a gunshot wound in the head, inflicted by Edward Dunbar, 59, with a .22 caliber rifle in the home of the two men occupied on the Francis Smith farm, six miles south of Amboy, near Five Points.

The verdict was reached this morning at an inquest held in the Jones Funeral Home conducted by Robert Preston, Lee County coroner.

After hearing testimony from Chester Ross, Amboy policeman; John Quest, Lee County sheriff and the results from an autopsy completed Thursday morning, the jury reached the verdict.

Charges

Charges of murder were filed Thursday by Lee County State's Atty. Henry Dixon and the warrant was served on Dunbar Thursday afternoon in Lee County Jail, where he has been held without bond since the shooting about 9:30 p.m. Wednesday.

A preliminary hearing before Magistrate Edwin Merrick has been scheduled for Tuesday morning. Lloyd Scriven, public defender, has been appointed to represent Dunbar.

Dunbar has maintained that he shot Brechon in self defense. He has told Dixon and Quest that he shot his longtime friend after Brechon had threatened him with a butcher knife.

He said that Brechon, after threatening him, put the knife back on the table, jumped onto a studio couch and covered him-

Jet Bomber, Jet Tanker Collide

BULLETIN
NEWINGTON, N.H. (AP) — A B47 jet bomber and a KC135 jet tanker collided today over the Atlantic, Pease Air Force Base announced.

A Pease spokesman said the collision occurred about 700 miles east of Dow Air Force Base in Maine.

It was not known whether there were any survivors.

Planes of these types normally carry crews of four men. The bomber based at Pease Air Force Base was returning to the United States from Spain.

The collision occurred during refueling operations, the air base said.

The tanker plane was flying out of Dow Air Force Base at Bangor, Maine, where it is attached to the 71st Air Refueling Squadron.

The bomber had taken part in an air exercise in Spain.

Selma Negro Dies From Shooting of Week Ago

BULLETIN

SELMA, Ala. (AP) — A young Negro shot in the stomach in a bloody night of racial violence at nearby Marion, Ala., died in a Selma hospital today following emergency surgery.

Jimmy Lee Jackson, 26, of Marion, who had shown signs of improvement since the shooting on the night of Feb. 18, took a turn for the worse late Thursday night and underwent a four-hour operation.

A spokesman at Good Samaritan Hospital said death was attributed to massive infection. The hospital said an autopsy would be performed during the day.

Jackson was shot in the stomach after Negroes began a night street demonstration as part of their right-to-vote campaign in neighboring Perry County.

Eight persons were beaten, including three newsmen.

Jackson's death is the first resulting from the civil rights campaign which began in Alabama almost six weeks ago.

Jackson's death came as attorneys and civic leaders here, at a federal judge's request, sought ways and means of ironing out registration problems which would allow Negroes to register at a fast pace.

Prelude

In a prelude to another "freedom day" planned by Negro leaders for next Monday, U.S. Dist. Judge Daniel H. Thomas of Mobile conferred with several lawyers, including those who represent the county.

Thomas issued an order Feb. 4 directing the three-man Board of Registrars to process more Negro voter applicants. His visit to Selma came during a lull in street demonstrations by Negroes who concentrated on mobilizing for the Monday registration turnout and intensifying a boycott of white businesses.

Attorneys for Negro leaders had asked Thomas in a Wednesday petition to set aside an order by a state court judge in Selma banning demonstrations in the vicinity of the courthouse.

We Were Late

Some of the Dixon Evening Telegraph subscribers received their paper later than usual last evening. The circulation department of this newspaper makes every effort to maintain prompt delivery six days a week throughout the year, but once in a great while operational difficulties will force them to be off schedule—this happened yesterday.

Everyone at The Telegraph is sorry for the delay, but we do not want you to blame your carrier boy or motor route driver. They made every effort to get the paper to the readers as quickly as possible after the correction was made.

State Digging Out From Huge Snow Drifts Today

CHICAGO (AP) — Sunshine, reflected in the glare of white dunes left throughout the state by winter's worst snowstorm, helped hundreds of workers and householders still clearing roads and pathways today.

A little crusty of snow surface cut down blowing and re-drifting, although northwest winds persisted at 10 miles an hour, with some 20-mile gusts over snow-choked Chicago.

Thousands of trucks and passenger automobiles still were held fast, and major highways in the eastern part of the state were blocked this morning. But the situation was easing, and hundreds of vehicles were reclaimed and restarted.

The storm which flung 4 to 12 inches of snow and heaped it into drifts of 10 feet or higher, began Wednesday night and continued Thursday, with 45-mile winds compounding its paralyzing effects.

State police said that major roads still blocked today were U.S. 150 north of Farmer City, U.S. 136 in the Rantoul area east of U.S. 54, U.S. 50 from Salem to Flora and U.S. 45 from Neoga to Mattoon. Hundreds of lesser traveled roads still were held impassable by drifts or open only to one way traffic in many stretches. Highways in many areas were still treacherously slippery.

Blockages were reported on Illinois 130 between Newton and Greenup, Illinois 49 from Casey to Yale, Illinois 15 from Mount Carmel to Albino, Illinois 119 east of Illinois 1 to the Indiana state line, and Illinois 10 east of Clinton. Many Indiana roads were closed.

Empty

Rural schools remained empty and isolated in many counties. Most cities were back to near normal traffic flow, although the going was difficult and hazardous in powdery or caked roads left by re-drifting even on plowed streets.

Many factories and stores were closed Thursday or manned by skeleton forces because employees could not get to work. This situation, too, persisted in a lesser degree as the break-out continued.

Below - zero temperatures were confined mostly to northern Minnesota and eastern North Dakota, with readings in the teens in the north central region.

The Southeast, including Florida, got a blast of the icy air along with gusty winds up to 50 m.p.h. The freezing line extended into northern Florida.

Deaths attributed to the storms, termed by the Weather Bureau as the most intense of the winter for the entire eastern half of the nation, numbered at least 30, including 8 in the Chicago area and 5 in Kentucky. Many fatalities were attributed to over-exertion while shoveling snow, others from exposure and in traffic accidents on icy and snow-covered highways.

Heavy snow, four inches or more, was indicated along the south shores of Lakes Erie and Ontario and in Vermont, New Hampshire and northeastern New York. More than six inches of snow fell in northern New England Thursday as an intense storm carrying snow, rain and strong winds hit most on the area.

High Winds

As the storm swept into New England Thursday, the observatory at Mt. Washington, N.H., recorded wind gusts up to 133 m.p.h. Gusts were clocked up to 110 m.p.h. at Franconia Notch, N.H.

Kentucky and Tennessee, in the line of the heavy snow belt which covered Midwest areas, got the coldest weather of the season with temperatures edging to near zero in some areas.

Early morning temperatures ranged from 16 below zero at International Falls, in northern Minnesota, to 62 at Key West, in southern Florida.

Attend the Church of Your Faith Regularly

FORGOTTEN ANYTHING

THE CHURCH FOR ALL ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

No, not a single thing! Mom always shops carefully for her family. She watches their health. She makes sure they have a clean, comfortable home. She sees that they get practically anything they want. What more can she do?

Well, how about their spiritual well-being? A family needs a religious framework in which to develop moral responsibility and steadfast faith. If Mom and Dad set a fine example of Christian love and regular church attendance, the family cannot help but be influenced. Today's young people, strengthened and inspired by Church teachings, are the leaders that our country will need tomorrow.

Remember, Mom . . . "Man's life consists not in the abundance of things which he possesses." Don't deprive your family or yourself of the many precious values the Church can give.

With aluminized exhausts that discourage corrosion... Delcotron generators that encourage longer battery life... brakes that adjust themselves... rocker panels that flush themselves free of dirt and salt. Tight? They're downright miserly!

You're looking at the lowest priced sedan and station wagon that Chevrolet makes.

We make a point of this since they neither look nor act their price.

They're roomy. The sedan seats six. The wagon gives you a full nine feet from the back of the front seat to the tip of the lowered tailgate.

They're rugged. The unitized body is by Fisher. Up front, there's an independent suspension system and in the rear, Mono-Plate (you'll never hear a squeak) springs.

They're good looking. Clean. Functional. Foam-cushioned front seats, padded front armrests and color-keyed front seat belts are among many unexpected standard equipment features.

You can get an economical 4-cylinder engine in the sedan or in both cars, a 120-hp Hi-Thrift Six. It's fast to warm up, idles almost silently and is very, very easy on gas.

For even more power, there's a special Six you can order: the 230-cubic-inch Turbo-Thrift job.

As we said earlier, these are our lowest priced cars. But you'll never know just how economical they are until you own one.

Monday Meet

The broadcast came as Communist leaders were gathering in Moscow for a Monday meeting which Red China evidently will boycott.

The Soviet premier gave no indication of much success in his Peking talks.

He reported on them this way: "Naturally, the difficulties and differences which have developed in the international Communist movement cannot be resolved right away. One cannot disregard these differences, which flow from the concrete historical situation in each country, national specific features and national distinction."

Claims

Kosygin claimed that the Communist-ruled nations were united "in the face of the imperialist threat," and added that U.S. actions in Viet Nam "cannot go unpunished."

"If the American imperialists continue the aggressive actions," he said, "the conflict in that part of the world will inevitably transcend its original boundaries."

Kosygin said U.S. forces should be withdrawn from South Viet Nam "to create conditions for the exploration of avenues leading

Rockford Man Making Recovery

Carpenter suffered burns on his right hand, arm and leg, which absorbed most of the radiation.

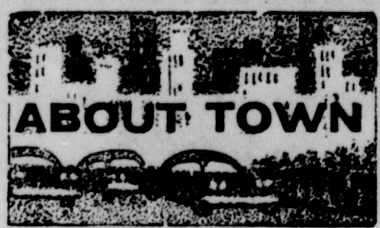

Doctors report they fear no need for amputation.

The address, however, seemed moderate in tone. Kosygin insisted the U.S.S.R. still would "continue the struggle for easing international tension, for general disarmament, peace and security."

Police Tighten Security on King

Murder ...

self. Dunbar said he went to his room, got his rifle and shot Brechon.

Dunbar Says

Dunbar told investigators that he feared for his life and shot Brechon in self defense.

Ross testified at the inquest that he first learned of the incident when Dunbar drove into town about 9:45 p.m. Wednesday and said that he had shot Brechon "through the head."

He said that he called Quest and that he and Ronald Linscott, Lee County deputy sheriff, took Dunbar back to the house the two men occupied.

Both Ross and Quest told the jury that they found Brechon's body on the couch in a face-up position. They said Brechon was covered and in their opinion appeared to be in a resting position.

They testified that there was no evidence of a struggle.

Quest said Dunbar claimed Brechon had made many threats on his life, however Quest said that investigation has shown that these threats had been going on for about two years.

Rifle Identified

The single-shot rifle used in the shooting has been identified by Dunbar. And a spent cartridge was found in the chamber, according to Quest. The sheriff also said that Dunbar told him he loaded the rifle just before the incident.

The rifle and slug taken from Brechon will be sent to Washington for analysis. Quest added that the knife, which Dunbar said Brechon used to threaten him, will also be sent.

The pathologist's report revealed that the rifle slug hit Brechon in the right temple and traveled through the basal portion of the brain. It remained imbedded in the skull.

Funeral services for Gustave C. Brechon will be held Saturday at 9 a.m. in Jones Funeral Home and at 9:30 a.m. in St. Patrick's Catholic Church with the Rev. Aloysius Neumann, assistant pastor, officiating. Burial will be in Oakwood Cemetery.

Friends may call in the funeral home today where the Rosary will be recited at 7:45 p.m.

Police identified the two men booked on suspicion of burglary as Rodney Chesney, 42, and his nephew, Ronald Bartell, 24, both of nearby Sunland.

Also in Gilbert's apartment, police said, were bazookas, a mortar, hand grenades and application forms for a group one officer identified as The Minute-men.

Detective Lt. Manuel Pena said that there was no indication Gilbert was responsible for the threats against Dr. King's life, but reported a tight security cordon had been thrown around the civil rights leader as a precaution.

Dr. King spoke to 2,000 guests at a World Affairs Council luncheon and then went Thursday night to a special benefit screening of "The Greatest Story Ever Told."

King plans to return Monday to Selma, Ala., for a renewal of his voter registration drive.

Lee County Retailers' Sales Up

Lee County's 366 retail establishments had $43.8 million in sales in 1963, an increase of eight per cent from 1958, the U.S. Bureau of the Census has reported after tabulating data gathered from all firms in the 1963 census of business.

The last previous business census, conducted by the Census Bureau, an agency of the U.S. Department of Commerce, was in 1958.

Retail trade in the county meant jobs (exclusive of proprietors) for 1,512 men and women and a yearly payroll of $4.4 million.

In volume of business, the county's food stores had sales of $8.9 million an increase of nine per cent over the 1958 figure.

Other Lee County retail businesses and their sales figures were: (1) eating and drinking places, $3.1 million; (2) gasoline service stations, $4 million; (3) auto dealers and related retail trade establishments, $7.8 million; (4) general merchandise group stores, $3.6 million; and (5) lumber, building materials, hardware and farm equipment dealers, $5.5 million.

For the state as a whole, the Census Bureau reported 92,069 retail establishments with sales of $15.2 billion, up 19 per cent from 1958.

George Lamb Named Dixon 'Y' President

George Lamb was elected president of the Dixon YMCA, Thursday night at a meeting of the board of directors.

A final tentative report of the Y's concentrated membership drive revealed that $5,503 has been turned in by campaign workers. This is 68.8 per cent of the goal of $8,000, however, this is considerably more than the campaign a year ago raised. Last year the goal was $6,000 and about $4,000 was raised.

Robert Swaney, who was named first vice president of the association and who also was this year's campaign chairman, said some workers have not turned in their reports and he expects the final figure to be increased.

David Rymer, general secretary of the Y, estimated the final total result for the concentrated drive would reach $6,500. He noted that if this figure is reached the campaign would have topped the 1964 effort by 62 1/2 per cent.

Beyond this, the YMCA officials noted, that many memberships expire during the year and as these are renewed, the YMCA will continue to receive funds from memberships. Rymer also commented that as the year progresses and the Y offers new programs, there will be those who are not members now who will purchase a membership to participate in some activity which appeals to them.

As an incentive for campaign workers and team captains, this year western style hats were offered to any worker who turned in $90 in memberships and to any captain whose team reported $500 in memberships. Rymer revealed that 18 hats were awarded, and complimented the many volunteers for the work they did to make this campaign achieve the success that was realized.

Other officers named at last night's meeting were, B. J. Frazer, second vice president; Charles Lester, secretary, and Robert Grodey, treasurer.

Hepburn-Andrews Bit Has Hollywood Abuzz

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Because Audrey Hepburn was scratched before she got to the post, the Hollywood Oscar derby has the whole film colony gabbling today.

Miss Hepburn, star of "My Fair Lady" on the screen, didn't get nominated for the Motion Picture Academy awards. But Julie Andrews — who created Eliza Doolittle on Broadway — did.

Miss Andrews wasn't cast in the Warner Bros. film version. Audrey got the part. But Julie's selection as a best actress candidate resulted from "Mary Poppins," which led the pack with hers and 12 other nominations.

The vote against Audrey — even Warner Bros. admits — is more a vote against Jack L. Warner. The studio boss passed up Julie for the movie although her price was $75,000 compared with Audrey's $1 million.

Then a few weeks ago, when Julie received the Hollywood

Foreign Press award, Warner in a speech couldn't remember her name.

"I didn't mean it as a slight," explains Warner. "In this business you're lucky if you remember your own name half the time."

"I'm disappointed she didn't get nominated for an Oscar but I still say I'm right in casting her for the part," says Warner. Audrey rated critical raves for her performance and the picture is headed for box-office records.

When the movie started, Miss Andrews never had made a picture. Walter Disney cast her as "Mary Poppins" and she emerged a box-office movie star. But Disney, whose name alone sells all his pictures, can star an unknown movie name. Warner with an $18-million investment, couldn't afford such a gamble.

The fact remains that it was resentment against Warner's choice that hurt Audrey. Most everybody in Hollywood felt that Julie should have gotten the role in the first place. Only actors vote on nominations, and actors, being emotional people, vote emotionally. Lots of actors hate bosses.

It's that simple. Julie says she owes all her present success to Warner.

"I felt momentary disappointment when I didn't get the movie but with the way things turned out I now say: 'Thank God.'"

"I could have been Eliza Doolittle the rest of my life — instead of Julie Andrews. I have Mr. Warner to thank for everything." She said this with a smile, but the remark was tinged with sarcasm.

Hospital Building Legislation

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — Sen. Arthur Goeschalk, R-Park Forest, has introduced a bill to tighten regulations for building and operating new hospitals.

Sponsors of hospital projects would be required by the bill to obtain a permit and show they have the qualifications, background and finances necessary for proper service.

Goeschalk said Thursday the legislation would help control the waste in constructing hospital facilities where they are not needed.

"The number one inefficiency in our Illinois hospital system is the tendency in some areas to overbuild facilities and duplicate expensive hospital services beyond the apparent capacity of the local community to support them adequately," he said.

Also introduced was a bill by Rep. Clyde Choate, D-Annapolis, appropriating funds for right-of-way development of the Kaskaskia River watershed.

The appropriation includes $920,000 for use in conjunction with construction of a dam and reservoir by the federal government near Carlyle, $4.1 million for a dam and reservoir near Shelbyville, $5 million for navigation improvements, and $200,000 relating to construction of levees and flood control improvements, and $200,000 relating to construction of levees and flood control improvements near New Athens.

Living Costs Rise Again In January

WASHINGTON (AP) — Living costs rose one-tenth of one per cent in January largely because of higher costs for housing, gasoline, and automobile insurance, the Labor Department reported today.

The increase was the fifth monthly rise in a row. It brought the consumer price index to 108.9 per cent of the 1957-59 average.

About 950,000 workers in the auto, farm equipment and aerospace industries will receive a wage increase of one cent an hour under union contracts which link pay rates to the price index.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics issued, along with its regular monthly price report, an annual review of price trends which showed that consumer prices climbed 1.3 per cent in 1964.

It mentioned a possibility that heavy stockpiling of steel by industry, as a hedge against a nationwide strike, may for a short period push some segments of industry close to capacity operations.

Arnold Chase, assistant commissioner for prices, said living costs in February probably have been unchanged from January or perhaps one-tenth of one per cent higher. While costs of consumer services and rents apparently are rising, he said, there may be some discounting of new car prices and reductions in utility rates.

Population Skyrocketing

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. population will reach 265,575,000 by 1985, the Census Bureau estimated today.

The present population is about 193 million.

The estimate is based on a slightly declining birth rate in line with the trend of recent years.

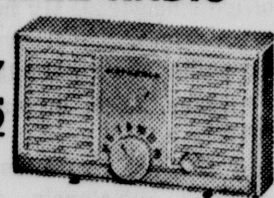

The bureau estimated that California would have 10 million more people than New York by 1985. The 1985 projection for California was 34,422,000 compared to the mid-1964 figure of 18,084,000.

It was estimated that New York's population would grow from 17,915,000 to 22,407,000 by 1985.

Cardinal Meyer Is Good Following Brain Surgery

CHICAGO (AP) — Albert Cardinal Meyer, 61-year-old archbishop of the Chicago Roman Catholic archdiocese, was reported in very good condition today after a brain operation in which an "abnormal tissue" was removed.

Dr. Harold C. Voris, chairman of the Mercy Hospital department of neurosurgery, said in a news conference following the 4-hour and 20-minute surgery Thursday that the operation was a success.

Walnut-Sized

Dr. Voris, who performed the surgery, said the abnormal tissue was the size of a small lime or a large walnut. He said the tissue was taken out in small pieces. Dr. Voris was assisted by a nine-man team.

He told newsmen that the tissue had the appearance of a tumor, but that it could be tissue swollen by inflammation. He said he did not believe further surgery would be required.

Dr. Voris said the prelate's post-operative condition was "quite satisfactory" and that the cardinal went through the long surgery in good shape. He said there were no significant alterations in the blood pressure or respiration during surgery.

Groggy

A few hours after surgery, the cardinal was listed as groggy, but "in very good condition."

Dr. Voris said it would be two or three days before it could be determined whether the abnormal tissue was a tumor, benign or malignant.

He said the tissue was in the right lobe of the brain just above the ear and about one inch below the surface.

"We anticipate that his speech, intellect and movements will be quite intact," Dr. Voris said.

"No matter what the outcome of the operation," he added, "it was better than letting the condition proceed as it was, because it could have gone on and caused quite serious results."

He said the surgery might temporarily affect the "association ability" of the cardinal's brain, but that other brain cells would quickly take over that function.

First 24 Hours

The first 24 hours after surgery would determine how long the prelate would remain hospitalized, he said.

Cardinal Meyer, spiritual leader of some two million Roman Catholics in the Chicago area, was hospitalized Feb. 17 complaining of recurrent headaches. He had been in Mercy Hospital for 12 days in January for treatment of a gall bladder ailment.

The Chicago archdiocese is the largest Catholic community in the nation.

Cardinal Meyer asked for the prayers of Catholics and non-Catholics prior to the surgery.

Cardinal Meyer was wheeled from his room to surgery at 11:58 a.m. CST Thursday. The operation was started at 12:50 p.m., at which time he was taken into the recovery room.

Gold Goes Down Again

By HENRY J. TAYLOR

Down goes our gold again—down and out.

We free $5 billion backing the dollar. Presto! The reserve drops to another new 26-year low. But why should all correctives make our citizens the patsies?

While Treasury Secretary Douglas Dillon and the other Washington Robin Hoods of the Red Ink ponder a $100-exit-visa tax against a bonanza beckons from abroad—if only they had the gumption and courage to tap it.

Dickens' Tiny Tim cried out, "There was never such a squish."

I echo Tiny Tim about the biggest squish in U.S. financial history. It's official—called counterpart funds, but few taxpayers even know about it.

Billions of U.S. Government dollars (that is, taxpayers' dollars in the form of foreign currencies) are accumulating abroad. They're on tap in many of the world's most popular travel centers—Spain, Italy, Austria and most Western European countries, other interesting places like India and much of the Far East. In Thailand, for example, our counterpart funds on deposit exceed half of the total money in circulation.

Currency
These enormous deposits, covered by treaties that should be renegotiated, accrue from local-currency payments for commodities and goods our government has sold abroad—chiefly agricultural products under Public Law 480. The catch is that the payment money must be spent inside the countries. But who spends the currency does not hurt the local economy.

Traveling Congressmen and other officials cash in on these local currencies. Treasury officials admit its deposits are so overabundant we cannot conceivably employ them even by building numerous new embassies, as in New Delhi, and an American-Italian institute near Florence, etc. In fact, Washington free loaders often trot out this excuse of overabundance as their alibi for lush junkets.

Abuses I've seen at the American Embassy in Switzerland are almost sickening, and I speak with some feeling because there is no justification whatever. No counterpart funds are generated in that hard-currency country.

Counterpart
Yet the U.S. Treasury converts Austrian, Italian, etc., counterpart funds into Swiss francs and the State Department authorizes the franc distribution free to Congressmen, agency bureaucrats and accompanying whatnots in Switzerland.

The State Department is blameless. Under a little-known law it must prenotify the embassy. Then, typically, an arriving Congressman telephones the consulate to send him a bundle of good-everywhere Swiss francs.

The designee doesn't even have to receipt for the amount—perhaps $2,500 at a crack. And he cracks the till as often as he pleases. (The signature of anybody in his party is good enough.) Nor need he account for the cash when back home—how he spends it, or even whether he spent it. Moreover, counterpart funds of a type convertible into Swiss francs should be transferred, instead, back to the U.S. taxpayers' treasury where they belong.

This brings us to the gold problem.
Outflow.
Treasury officials say dollars that traveling Americans spend abroad seriously aggravate the gold outflow. True. Then promptly their brains turn to loading still another burden on our own citizens.

We peasants aren't responsible for the balance-of-payments problem, the government overspending mess, Washington's failure to collect billions still due from debtors, like France, that now somehow call themselves creditors, or other features of the gold crisis. It's the fault of our money managers who have fallen flat on their faces. But we want to do our part to help.

The same public servants, however, who order up government jets costing as high as 300 Rolls-Royce limousines and $2,300 an hour to fly, and that take them anywhere, any time, should not penalize the little man who may want to travel.

The U.S. Treasury's counterpart funds abroad are good enough to hand out free to official free loaders. What's the matter with selling—these to American travelers, plain citizens, who have no inside track? The Treasury could sell us drafts on its local currency deposits abroad, obtain the American travelers' dollars right here at home in exchange and hand-somely liquidate much of the gigantic squish that represents the taxpayers' money, after all. Fellow peasants, the U.S. Government can do this for us and for the gold crisis—and should.

The Doctor Says

By W. G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
Q — Can a person take too much vitamin B-1? What is the daily requirement for an adult?

A — Since thiamine (vitamin B-1) is water soluble, it is not stored in the body.

Large amounts over the daily requirement of 1.5 to 2.5 milligrams are promptly eliminated and cause no harm. This daily requirement may be obtained in about 3½ ounces of pork or 7 ounces of oatmeal or peanuts.

In lower concentrations, it is also available in milk, vegetables and fruits. Pregnant women and mothers who are nursing their babies need an increased amount of this vitamin.

Q — What foods contain vitamin E?

A — Vitamin E is found in vegetable oils, green, leafy vegetables and nuts.

Although it may be needed in the human body, its exact function is hard to determine because even on the poorest diet it has been impossible to produce a deficiency of this vitamin in man.

Persons with cystic fibrosis do have a deficiency of vitamin E, but no relationship between the vitamin lack and the disease has been proved.

Q — When my eyes were examined a year ago the doctor used drops to dilate my pupils. Then he used pilocarpin drops to bring them back to normal size.

This caused an immediate severe headache and nausea so that I couldn't leave the office for half an hour. Does this mean I have glaucoma?

A — Pilocarpin tends to relieve, not aggravate, glaucoma. There are no side effects from the use of pilocarpin drops in the eyes.

You should seek some other cause — possibly migraine — for the symptoms you describe.

Q — In a recent column you recommended walnut stain for masking skin areas that had no pigment. My druggist doesn't have any walnut stain and doesn't know where to get it.

A — Have your druggist write to Dermatological Prescription Laboratories, 2100 Bryant Street, San Francisco, Calif., 94110.

Q — What can be done to help a person with puffiness under the eyes? Is there any operation for this?

A — Loss of elasticity of the skin of the lower lids occurs with aging. There may also be a hereditary element in the cause. Furthermore, fatigue usually aggravates it.

Business Is Booming

Dear Ann:

By ANN LANDERS

Dear Ann Landers: I began to read your column nine years ago — for laughs. I stopped laughing after the first two months when I saw my wife, my children, my mother, my brothers, the boss, the family next door, then finally myself.

Your column is a compendium of psychology, philosophy, English composition, sociology and social justice. And then there is the humor. It is incomparable. But this is not what I started to say.

I am writing today about the letter signed "Just Normal Folks." They can't understand why there are so many screwballs in the world — nuts whose lives are all loused up. I have known people like that and they make me sick. They are so proud of themselves, as if they fashioned their good fortune with their own two hands. They congratulate each other daily on how well they are handling their lives.

By their standards I am not normal because I have had a great deal of trouble in my life. I did not arrange to have my father die under the wheels of a truck when I was 15. Nor was I responsible for my mother's heart attack two years later. I was not to blame for my brother's divorce or his suicide which followed. It is not my fault that my wife and I have lost two of our four children to polio and that a fifth child was still-born.

I don't know what luck is, and I don't know how much bad luck people bring on themselves, but I do know that some folks have a tougher time than others. I hope nothing unfortunate ever strikes Just Normal Folks. They would go down without a trace.—BATTLE SCARRED

Dear Battle Scarred: Trouble is an inevitable part of living. Voltaire wrote, "A man who says 'I have no troubles' is a liar or an idiot." And I'm with him.

Dear Ann Landers: My husband insists the next time he hears our 15-year-old daughter say on the telephone "What are you gonna wear to school today?" he is going to hit her on the seat with a hairbrush.

It's annoying to hear her confer with girl friends every morning about clothes but I don't feel this is particularly bad. Please pour a little oil on the troubled waters. — BALANCE WHEEL

Dear Wheel: And what's so terrible about girls conferring on what to wear? Personally, I believe this is a great deal healthier than not giving a hoot. And incidentally, the sloppy look is out. It's "in" to be neat this season.

Dear Ann Landers: I'm going to disguise my letter by changing some of the details, because I don't want to embarrass anyone.

My uncle was attorney general of this state 10 years ago. Every time my husband introduced me it went like this, "This is my attorney general."

Time Runs Out for LBJ

By JAMES MARLOW

AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON — The unhappy side of the presidency finally caught up with Lyndon B. Johnson who had it fairly nice, coping with the predictable, in his first 14 months in the White House.

There had been some annoyances abroad but most of his time, talent, and tenacity were concentrated on problems at home, like winning an election, getting a civil rights bill passed, pushing through a tax cut.

This was where he was an expert, after his long years in Washington. He had an acute sensitivity to politicians, understood the machinery of government, knew when to shift gears, throw switches, and turn the heat on.

Time was extraordinarily kind in allowing him so long a stretch in which to deal with what he knew best. No president since Franklin D. Roosevelt had such little critical trouble overseas in his first 14 months.

It couldn't last, and it didn't. Trouble finally piled up on him when the Communist guerrillas in South Viet Nam attacked U.S. bases and shocked Americans into a vivid realization of what they were up against.

Anyone paying attention to the news these past two years knew the American-backed war against the Communists was going to pot and that the guerrillas were taking over more and more of a country the United States was helping defend.

All this news was spread over many months and no single episode, until U.S. bases were hit in South Viet Nam, illustrated so well the developing disaster.

The whole wretched condition of the war became clear with the attacks and Johnson's retaliation by ordering the bombing of some North Vietnamese bases. Johnson was repeatedly urged to talk to the nation about it. He didn't.

It isn't difficult to understand why he is reluctant to talk to the world directly on all this.

It might limit his freedom of maneuver in dealing with the Communists, now or later, and he may have reason, not clear now to outsiders, for thinking that just watchful waiting by itself is good medicine.

But Wednesday, U Thant, secretary-general of the United Nations, suggested the United States pull out of Viet Nam although he acknowledged, for American face-saving reasons, this could be done only after some kind of settlement.

And then he threw in a strange statement: "I am sure that the great American people, if only they know the true facts will agree with me that further bloodshed is unnecessary."

What facts don't the American people know? He didn't say. Nor did he say anyone was withholding facts from them.

If the United States did try to pull out suddenly — Johnson has no such thought, judging from the stories coming out of Washington — it would be an admit-

Today in History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Friday, Feb. 26, the 57th day of 1965. There are 308 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1851, the 22nd Amendment to the Constitution became effective upon ratification by Nevada. It made two elective terms the limit for the presidency.

On this date in 1815, Napoleon escaped from Elba.

In 1846, William Frederick Cody — Buffalo Bill — was born in Scott County, Iowa.

In 1876, Japan signed a treaty of friendship with Korea.

In 1941, British armies captured the capital of Italian Somaliland.

In 1943, the British Royal Air Force bombed Cologne, Germany.

Ten years ago — A five-year mutual defense treaty between Turkey and Iraq was ratified.

Five years ago — An Italian airliner crashed after taking off from Shannon, Ireland. Of 52 persons aboard, 38 were killed.

One year ago — President Johnson signed the $11.5-billion tax cut bill.

ted defeat, costing the United States influence in Asia and elsewhere.

Nor, according to such stories, does Johnson think this is the time to talk negotiations with the Communists.

But Viet Nam, where American lives have been lost and billions of dollars spent if not wasted, is becoming topsy-turvy, with the generals competing for power among themselves and one government after another being overturned.

If this goes on much longer, Johnson will have a hard time convincing Americans this country should stay in Viet Nam to fight a war the Vietnamese are not fighting.

This is his first major foreign affairs dilemma. He knows more about it than the rest of the country. Therefore, and since there has been no climax and no solution, neither his caution nor his silence should be criticized.

Sooner or later there will be the climax and how Johnson emerges from it will affect his leadership here and abroad. It's no wonder he's watching his step.

Your age won't keep you from being companionable with younger persons, if—

You will listen with interest to their ideas, instead of assuming because you are older, your opinions are more sound, and that it's your duty to set them straight when their ideas differ.

You can resist the temptation to do more than your share of the talking.

You avoid the bad habit of going on at length on some subject that couldn't possibly be interesting to anyone outside your own age group.

You won't keep emphasizing the age difference by such remarks as, "When you are as old as I am..." or, "You'll think differently when you have lived as long as I have."

You won't let yourself look shocked by the frankness with which younger people discuss matters you wouldn't have dared discuss when you were their age.

When you choose to disagree, you'll do it gently and with humor, instead of being dogmatic.

You don't take the attitude that nothing today is as good as it was in the days when you were young.

You can refrain from telling the young how easy they have it compared with your own early struggles. Remember—though they don't face the same problems you faced, they have plenty of others you didn't have.

You never offer unasked-for advice, realizing that it probably won't be taken anyway, and is almost sure to be resented.

Sorority Chapter Service Project

As their community service project for the current year, members of Gamma Mu chapter, Beta Sigma Phi Sorority, presented a $100 check Thursday to administrators of Truman School and Workshop for the Retarded. Similar projects sponsored by the sorority chapter in past years have also benefited Truman School, and the fund for this year's contribution was earned by selling greeting cards during the recent holiday season. In the photograph above taken during the presentation of the check are (left to right) Mrs. Ernest Slaughter, Gamma Mu chapter's service chairman; Mrs. Carroll Boston, president of the North Central Illinois Association for the Aid of Retarded Children; Larry Taylor, executive director of Truman School, and Mrs. Lyndal Brewer, Gamma Mu president.

Festival Project Is Planned by Sorority Chapter

Tuesday night's meeting for Xi Beta Upsilon chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority with Mrs. Jerome Brady was conducted by the chapter president, Mrs. Joseph Braun, and included a report on a recent meeting of the Dixon Petunia Festival committee by Mrs. Arnold Spangler, the chapter's representative.

All chapter members have purchased festival membership cards, and plans were completed for the group's project to participate in arrangements for the event.

Mrs. Vernon Heckman, Mrs. Brady and Mrs. Spangler were appointed members of a nominating committee and will report on their selection of new chapter officers at a March 9 business meeting with Mrs. Braun which will precede a 7 p.m. dinner at Stan Hack's Landmark Restaurant in Grand Detour.

The evening's illustrated program, "Adult Education," prepared by Mrs. Spangler included discussions on extension courses, high school and college credits, correspondence schools and available student curriculum.

A social period followed the program when refreshments were served by Mrs. Brady and her co-hostess, Mrs. Donald Mades.

Dr. Bouldin Will Speak at Day of Prayer Observance

Dr. John R. Bouldin will be guest speaker for the annual observance of World Day of Prayer to be sponsored by the Dixon Council of United Church Women at 1:30 p.m. March 5 in Grace Evangelical United Brethren Church.

Dr. Bouldin, superintendent of the Dixon Conference, EUB Church Western District, and a graduate of North Central College and Evangelical Theological Seminary, Naperville, has written numerous publications and study books for the EUB Church. His topic for the local service will be the theme adopted for the 79th annual World Day of Prayer, "What Doth the Lord Require."

All persons interested in participating in the service are invited to attend by Mrs. H. O. Krell, president of the Dixon Council of United Church Women, and Mrs. Walter Kevern, World Day of Prayer chairman. The service, planned for the first Friday in the Lenten season, has been prepared by Mrs. Jesse Jai McNeil, Pasadena, Calif., wife of Dr. Jesse Jai McNeil, minister and author. An active member of the United Church Women, Mrs. McNeil has served as vice president of the national organization, and was recently appointed chairman of the National World Day of Prayer Committee. She is the first Negro to receive the citation, "Layman of the Year," from the Detroit Council of Churches, and is the second woman to be awarded the honor. Her program includes familiar Scripture readings, hymns and prayers selected to offer each participant the Christian fellowship associated

Open House To Celebrate Anniversary

ROCHELLE—The golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Freimuth, 1047 N. Lincoln Highway, will be observed at an open house from 2 to 4 p.m. Sunday in the Paynes Point Emmanuel Lutheran Church.

The reception will include a special anniversary service in the church sanctuary at 2 p.m. The former Miss Mary Nordman and Mr. Freimuth were married Feb. 24, 1915 in the Paynes Point church parsonage by the Rev. Frank Engelhart, and are parents of a daughter, Mrs. Ernest (Hattie) Boumgarden, Paynes Point, who is arranging the anniversary observance.

The Freimuths also have three grandchildren, Mrs. Larry (Polly) Gibbs, Belvidere, and James and Connie Boumgarden, and two great-grandchildren, Terri and Randy Gibbs.

The honorees are inviting relatives and friends to attend the open house and request the omission of gifts.

Experts' Tips On Selecting Hair Color

Beauticians list these tips to consider when having your hair professionally colored or when doing it yourself:

Highlight or brighten your natural hair color with a tint one degree lighter than your natural shade.

If you are just beginning to gray, choose a color approximately two or three shades lighter than your natural color.

Lighten a medium gray head three or four shades but don't go any lighter than pastel blonde.

The very gray should avoid drab or ashen shades. These tend to emphasize the whiteness of the hair. The lightest shade to use with very gray hair is pale blonde.

Skin color also plays a key role in selecting the proper hair coloring. Women with creamy or very fair complexion can be as daring as they wish. With age, the lighter tones are most flattering to the complexion. If your complexion is ruddy, avoid hair coloring with red in it. Ivory-skinned women look best in ash or darker hair colors.

Don't decide on a hasty leap to permanent color. Start with temporary rinses, then semipermanent color and then the permanent tint.

Members of AAUW Branch Celebrate 18th Anniversary

The 18th anniversary of the Dixon branch, American Association of University Women, was observed by 40 members and guests attending a Monday night dinner-meeting in Loveland Community House when table decorations included festive birthday cakes prepared by Mrs. Clyde Yount Jr., hostess chairman, and her assistants.

Special recognition was given past presidents of the branch and Miss Dorothy Armington, Mrs. William Aldorfer and Mrs. Earl Bennyhoff, charter members who took part in establishing the branch in 1947.

Fund Donation
Miss Christine Bessmer conducted the business meeting when members approved an annual contribution to the association's fellowships fund following a discussion on the fund and its benefits by Miss Ruby Natress, fellowships chairman.

Mrs. Bennyhoff, area representative for world problems, announced a program by Mrs. Harry Shaw, Sterling, on "Facts and Fallacies of the U.N." for the next meeting at 7:30 p.m. March 12 in Loveland House, and members were asked to submit favorite salad and dessert recipes to be included in a booklet project. Plans for the election of first and second vice presidents and treasurer at the March meeting were announced by Mrs. Marion Snively, nominating committee chairman, and her assistants, Miss Gladys Jamison and Mrs. L. W. Anderson.

Mrs. Aldorfer, AAUW area representative for education, Mrs. Eugene Gordon and Miss Alice Richardson arranged the evening's program which included a group discussion on "Pressure on Students" led by Mrs. Gordon and reported by Miss Ruth Bollman. Problems considered were over-placement on all levels, family, social and emotional situations and homework.

Parent-teacher organizations concerned with the welfare of students, the emphasis on STILLMAN VALLEY — When Forreton nipped Stillman Valley, 70 to 69, in the Stillman Valley District Tournament on Wednesday, the press lost a good story.

If Stillman had beaten Forreton and perhaps gone on to win the tourney, it would have met the Dixon Dukes.

Haunt

It isn't often that a school gets a chance to try and haunt its ex-coach, and that is what the story would have been at the Sterling Regional on Tuesday night — if Stillman would have won the tourney.

Duke coach Dick Franklin was the former mentor at Stillman, winning a regional title in 1959, and coming close to taking the same team out of the sectional.

Now he is at Dixon, and still could be coaching against a former foe: Bob Brinkmeier of Forreston—if Forreton dumps Ashton tonight.

Some people have been wondering if Franklin would have liked to play his old school. About the only remark he makes is: "It doesn't matter much to me who we play." But somehow we feel that he really would have enjoyed the challenge of coaching against Stillman.

Young Players

There is a fine collection of young players at the tournament, here, and in many cases they have played important roles in the tourney.

When Ashton's regulars could play Franklin Center to only a standstill, coach John Brooks went to his youngsters — two juniors, two sophomores, and a freshman — and they paved the way to a resounding victory.

Last night he used his two sophomores at the guards against Leaf River. It was the third time the two teams had met, with the Demons taking the first two. Then last night, with his sophomores at the guards, the Aces of Brooks handled Leaf River, 73 to 58.

Byron, which lost to Stillman in overtime, had only one senior, Denny Dunham on the starting unit, with most of the top substitutes also underclassmen.

Forreton's Brinkmeier credited juniors Don DeVries and Greg Ludwig and sophomore Bill Ross with playing exceptional games against Stillman—and if there would have been more than a ten-man roster allowed, there is a good chance that a freshman would have been on Forreton's tourney team.

Two fine sophomores are the sixth and seventh men for Stillman Valley. One, Tom Bischoff, is considered the best shooter on the Cardinals' squad, including dead-eye Keith Mincemoyer.

As far as the younger classmen go who are on tourney rosters, Leaf River and Franklin Center seem to have the fewest who see much action.

Franklin Center has an able junior center in Bob Dimmig, but it looks as though the Eagles are going to continue to have a depth problem.

Five of Leaf River's top six are seniors, with the only junior being Bert Patterson, who normally is not a starter.

Good Planning

The tournament here is one that has been well planned by manager Bob Abbott. The games all start on time, and except for the first tilt, when the tempers rose somewhat, things have been going smoothly.

Abbott is getting a lot of help from the Stillman Valley Fire Department and the student body and faculty of the high school.

Kay Lund Flies in F-105 Fighter

EDITOR'S NOTE: Kay Lund, former reporter for The Telegraph, now a member of the Honolulu Star-Bulletin news staff, has become the first woman to fly in the new United States Air Force supersonic F-105 Thunderchief jet fighter. Included in Kay's regular assignment for the Hawaiian newspaper are stories related to transportation and aviation. The following feature is reprinted from the Honolulu Star-Bulletin. (Photos By USAF)

By KAY LUND
The feminine voice from the F-105F tactical fighter preparing for take-off jolted the Honolulu control tower for an instant. Sitting in the second cockpit and coached by Captain Harold D. Dortch, I asked for permission to take off: "Honolulu ground control... this is Lightning Black... Taxiway Metro." There was an abrupt silence and then a hesitant reply: "Say... what... again?"
Not Common
A woman in an Air Force jet is not common. In a supersonic F-105 Thunderchief, it apparently never happened before. The afterburners thrust the $2.3 million piece of machinery down the runway. We lifted off about 200 miles an hour and climbed for the sky as Honolulu and Oahu fell into the distance. Captain Dortch, speaking on the intercom connecting the two cockpits, asked how I liked it so far. Women are seldom caught speechless, but this reporter was.

According to the Air Force, I was the first woman in Hawaii to fly in an F-105—one of the newest fighter-bombers in operation today—and probably the first in the world.
"G" Suit
Outfitted in an oversized "G" suit and about 35 pounds of equipment, I was in the second cockpit behind 28-year-old Captain Dortch, of Nashville, Tennessee. Captain Robert E. Nine, of Knoxville, Tennessee, was piloting another F-105 to our right.
Both are with the 562nd Tactical Fighter Squadron, descendants of the famed Flying Tigers.
Our destination was Pohnukloa on the Big Island where the "enemy" infantry awaited the mock assault of the two F-105s. I had reported to Hickam Air Force Base about 2½ hours earlier to be briefed on the nature of the mission and outfitted in a maze of gear.
The "G" suit is designed to withstand the excessive gravitational pull and automatically inflates a protective cushion of air. (We later pulled four G's.)
On top of the G suit went a Mae West life jacket, a 26-pound parachute, a helmet and an oxygen mask. Although everything is there for a reason, the total result looks much better on a man and does nothing for the feminine figure.
Instruments
Major Dalton W. McCullar, Jr., commander of the squadron, checked me out in the cockpit, explaining the hundreds of instruments crowded into the compact area and outlined emergency procedures. I discovered that a person remembers amazingly well when discussing survival and the alternatives available if trouble should develop some 18,000 feet up in the blue.

Firmly strapped into the cockpit, I closed the canopy about 1:30 p.m. — a somewhat lonesome sensation for a newcomer. Only a microphone connects the second person with the pilot in front.
The flight to the Big Island, 250 miles south of Honolulu, took about 20 minutes. The island chain was strung out vividly, and Mauna Loa and Mauna Kea, Hawaii's mountain volcanoes, were crowned brilliantly with snow.
We chatted en route. Captain Dortch, who has been flying for ten years, called the F-105 the smoothest, most sophisticated aircraft he had ever flown.
Cadillac
"I suppose you would call it the Cadillac of the jet fighters," he said.
His affection for flying was equally as apparent. "This may not be the best-paying job in the world... but it is the best," he said.
The F-105 Thunderchief is a Mach 2 multi-purpose fighter-bomber capable of delivering non-nuclear as well as nuclear and thermo-nuclear weapons.
Six of the new planes are now assigned to Hickam, and according to news reports from Vietnam, the F-105s are being used in combat with Communist Viet Cong.
Awaiting us at Pohnukloa was an infantry column of 25 trucks and tanks moving in a convoy along the road at the training ground.
Captain Dortch and Captain Nine, in touch with ground control, co-ordinated the timing and course of the mock attack.
Our F-105 screamed in first "on the deck" 100 feet off the ground, dropping colored water at the head of the column, and then pulled into a steep climb. The colored water was to simulate tear gas.
Captain Nine followed second with real tear gas, and we dove in a third time with propaganda leaflets telling the enemy they were "clobbered."
The assault was effective, according to ground control, and we headed back out over the Pacific leaving the ground troops to recoup.
Captain Dortch then took the F-105 through its paces.
We broke through the sonic barrier — a surprisingly smooth maneuver. There is no jolt or sudden blast although the natural reaction is to brace yourself.
1,000 m.p.h.
"You're now going faster than the speed of sound," he said. Then in a few moments the instrument panel showed we were traveling over 1,000 miles an hour.
And it was all as smooth as silk and magnificently beautiful. Captain Dortch asked if I wanted a few acrobatics on the way home to Hickam. I said "sure," knowing it was now or never.
He led the F-105 into a graceful roll to the left, and the horizon spinned topsy-turvy, then righted.
We tried another, but this time I was certain we were still upside down. The horizon had played an instant trick.
Captain Dortch then turned the controls over to me and gave me a few lessons on how to make a $2.3 million piece of machinery respond to the human touch.
Despite the highly-advanced technological features of the new fighter-bomber, the pilot is still the one who runs the show up there.
After one hour and twenty minutes in the air, we screamed in for a touchdown on runway eight and back to Hickam squadron base.
I had to agree that it was "quite a ride."
The fresh air rushing into the open cockpit felt good, and the only real wear-and-tear of the supersonic flight was that I was very, very thirsty.
The 562nd squadron presented me with a certificate admitting me to the 1,000-mile-per-hour club, a model of the F-105 Thunderchief — and a cup of coffee.
I told them to sign me up. I was converted.

OVERSEAS DELIVERY AVAILABLE
The first car
at the bottom of the world.
The Australian National Research Expedition, really had no choice.
They wanted a car that "any member of the party could hop into and drive off without a moment's hesitation."
And the Volkswagen just happens to fill the bill. The big trick is the VW's air-cooled rear engine. It has no radiator. It uses no water or antifreeze. It just goes.
(Antarctica #1 stood for days in 50° below zero weather and started without a tremble.)
The rear engine gave the VW so much extra traction it climbed "straight up and down the slopes." (But they cheated a little; sometimes they put chains on the back wheels.)
Another reason the VW went where even the dogs wouldn't is the sealed bottom. It took an awful beating, but that's what it's there for: To protect the works inside against the weather outside.
The conditions got so fierce that one man said, "Now we know what it'll be like when Hell freezes over."
So if it ever does, you know what car to buy.
